The Philmont OA Adviser Conference is for any currently registered adult member of the OA, including professional Scouters. While at the conference, participants can enjoy the many benefits of Philmont.

The Conference is tailored to address the specific needs of the participants, to share information from successful lodges across the Nation, and to discuss possible solutions to some of the common challenges faced by many chapters and lodges. Our goals are to challenge, educate and inspire the participants and staff!

Some of the topics that may be covered at the Conference include how to improve membership retention, the effective techniques of Lodge and Chapter communications, helpful insight regarding the Quality Lodge Recognition program, proven techniques to improve Brotherhood conversion, and other subject matter as requested by the participants. Participant input will have a large impact on what is discussed during the week, as we will strive to exceed the expectations of everyone in attendance!

While at the Philmont Training Center, participants and their families will have several opportunities to experience the many extracurricular activities that are available at both the Philmont Scout Ranch and surrounding areas.

Every evening and all day Wednesday, participants and their families will be able to enjoy many activities, some of which may include hiking, fishing, horseback riding, pottery-making demonstrations, museum visits, a Buffalo Barbeque on the Greensward, a Western Night of dance and games, and shopping in Cimarron and nearby towns.

"The Conference was very informative and the free flow of ideas helped everyone, from the newest OA member to the most experienced participant. The instructors and staff at Philmont were great! Their help and guidance, along with their sense of humor, made the Philmont OA Adviser Conference a very rich experience."
